

All Students are required, by the Ministry of Transportation to complete a "Home Study" portion of our course.

This homework will be emailed prior to the classroom.

The homework must be e-mailed back to driving@tbaytel.net no later than the date specified on the homework form.

If you miss a classroom the homework is still due by that date.

Failure to turn in homework when scheduled will result in a delay starting your in-car driving lessons.

If you choose not to abide by these conditions, you will have to repeat the classroom or possibly fail the course. Homework is part of the course and required under the Ministry of Transportation curriculum rules and we must enforce them.

If you have any questions or concerns about any portion of this course, please contact our office,

Thank you.

Peter Keddie (Course Director)

Note: If you make a mistake or your availability changes, you will find another availability form on our website under 'DOWNLOADS' Normally we receive these from you and attach it to the In-Car Instructor evaluation form, but because of the Covid 19 changes and if you don't have the means to scan and send it back to our office, keep it and give it to your instructor on the first lesson. When we have been given permission to re-start in-car training again, your assigned instructor will contact you to arrange driving lessons. You will receive an appointment card from your instructor, and have it filled in for each lesson you take.

Please follow the health guidelines required to have a safe lesson and if things change, please contact your instructor.

Use our tips and help guidelines on 'downloads' / co-driver / training tips on our website to further improve your training.

Thank you, keep safe and good luck with your lessons

Peter Keddie, Course Director.
