You will be scored by a line through the box which means a loss of one mark. An accumulation of more than 30 marks will result in a failed road test.

The most common negative marking comes from drivers who neglect to shoulder-check their blind spot either on a lane change maneuver or when turning right or left at intersections.

Other ways to fail are through not making 'traffic checks' obvious to the examiner, not making full stops, not turning into the proper lane. Speed control (too fast/too slow). Incorrect merge /exit on the Expressway, not yielding the right of way, parking mistakes, or it could be an accumulation of overall errors while driving.

If you are not sure if you will pass, take a lesson from a professional to prepare you for the test and pass on the first try.
