

Parental/Guardian Responsibility

Parents must bear the bulk of the responsibility in helping their children to drive.

No one can learn to drive a car in a day or a weekend.

It takes practice and patience.

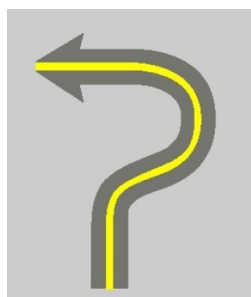

This is one of the reasons Graduated Drivers Licensing was created.

In today's congested and aggressive traffic environment you need to know more than just how to make the car go forward, backward and Parallel Park.

Professional drivers, Police, Firefighters and Emergency medical technicians are taught defensive driving and car control skills.

Your TEEN should also be taught these skills and given the time to practice.

Work with the school /instructor and together we can make a difference.
